INTRODUCTION

Three special Theme Districts have been established in Jenks to help the City of Jenks be more visually aesthetic and economically beneficial to the citizens of Jenks and its visitors. To accomplish this, there are special requirements for the Special Theme District, Riverfront District, and Corridor Appearance District.

The following ordinances, 602 and 968, created the criteria guidelines for the special Appearance Review Districts in the City of Jenks. The attached maps outline the three Appearance Review Districts of the City.

The City of Jenks, its residents, and its businessmen appreciate the time and effort taken to help meet these requirements and to give Jenks its special appearance.

1660.2 Riverfront District Guidelines

A. Appearance/Design

1. Building Design and Site Plan details should be so designed to provide building exterior walls and structural facades of a style reflecting a Riverfront/Boardwalk, or a Victorian, or a Turn-of-the-Century theme in order to minimize the impact of proposed new buildings and uses on adjacent and nearby properties. Exterior walls of buildings visible from the fronting street(s) must provide an aesthetic pleasing appearance utilizing approved Riverfront District design features, landscaping, color schemes, and other architectural treatments to eliminate monotone or monolithic exterior walls or structural facades in order to be compatible and complementary to adjacent and nearby properties within the Riverfront District.

2. In addition to complementary exterior wall design and building materials, the use of building setbacks, screening fences, landscaping, signage, lighting, and other site-specific amenities should be used to increase compatibility of the building and any outdoor storage areas and outbuildings with adjacent and nearby properties. It is recognized that each individual building site has its own existing specific environmental character. The design of new structures or alteration of existing structures should be responsible to the character of its environment and the adjacent neighborhood.
3. Insofar as possible, the design of buildings and site improvements for a particular piece of land should take into consideration the physical location, size, topography, existing zoning, including adjacent and abutting properties, and the intensity of land use as specified in the Jenks Comprehensive Plan.
4. Use of Planned Unit Developments (PUD's) are encouraged for development and redevelopment of properties within the Riverfront District in order to minimize the impact of proposed uses and to increase compatibility of uses with adjacent and nearby low intensity land use while providing a greater degree of design flexibility. Cooperative development by abutting property owners utilizing Zero Lot-Line construction may be considered.
5. All roof-mounted heating and air conditioning equipment (HVAC) shall be screened.

B. Building Materials

1. The design of new structures and of additions to existing structures, including new site improvements, should take into account the architectural style, general design, arrangement, texture, material and color of other structures and premises in the adjacent neighborhood and those of typical riverfront uses. Additions to existing structures or remodels in keeping with the existing architectural style may be allowed so long as such construction is compatible with the essential purposes and integrity of other structures in the Riverfront District.
2. All new structures and all reconstruction or remodeling of existing structures within the Riverfront District should utilize exterior materials such as masonry, face brick, stone, wood, or metal which give the appearance of material such as those in use at turn of the century. Use of
